

VOSS TECH

We like to refer to the Voss Tech as the Swiss Army knife of shelters - use it as a tarp, a hammock, an emergency stretcher, a tent or poncho. A must-have for every bushcrafter.

19 webbing loops give nearly endless possibilities of how to set up the Voss Tech to provide shelter from rain, wind or sun.

The Voss tech can be used as a rain poncho which also covers your backpack. And if you are in the mood for a rest, just build yourself a solid hammock with a roof. It is easy to set up and the sturdy material can hold up to 150 kilo as a single layer hammock and up to 250 kilo as a double layer hammock.

Lightweight, small pack size, endless possibilities: the Voss Tech fits easily in every backpack and can be used for different purposes.

When you need a quick shelter from the elements, the Voss Tech can be pitched as a mini tent within minutes, using a branch or a trekking pole as your centre pole. The waterproof zipper provides an easy entrance and exit.
